MH Gallery is very pleased to announce the first solo exhibition of painter Marc Van Cauwenbergh.

The thematic group exhibition "Desseins" marked the beginning of the collaboration with the artist. "Champs colorés", a two person show with French glass artist Gérald Vatrín, brought together a selection of Van Cauwenbergh's oil paintings on linen and paper in chromatic harmony with the glass sculptures of Vatrín. Recently, on the occasion of the first chapter of OsEros in Paris, MH Gallery presented a unique selection of works on paper from a series of male nudes by Van Cauwenbergh, rarely shown in Europe.

This series of couples, torsos, glutes, express discreetly but clearly the relationship that the artist has with figuration and abstraction.

Canvasses of raw linen and sheets of paper, immutably vertically arranged, welcome colorful spectra that still evoke human dimensions. Colors and emotions that arise from combinations thereof become the main subject and object of the work, whether our eyes perceive or not any representation.

"New works" presents a selection of paintings, predominantly on linen. In this body of work the color palette exults, the horizontal gestures and colorful layers open out and become detached; large clouds bounce almost in levitation, breathing with serene happiness on the unpainted support. One dreams to unravel the painted forms on the canvas as these interwoven layers seem to lovingly conceal a secret placed in its heart.

Could this be the soul of the painting?
